

ARE YOU ADDICTED TO YOUR ADDICT'S ADDICTION?

Nearly 4 million Canadians have a problem with alcohol or drug abuse and it is estimated that 47,000 deaths occur annually due to substance abuse.

Is Someone You Love One of them?

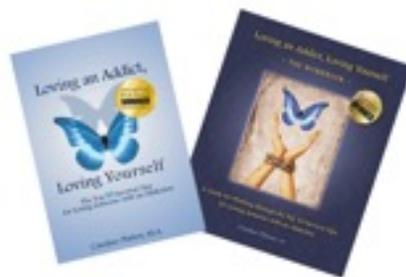

In an effort to help their addicts, many loved ones end up enabling them instead, causing their addictions to spiral out of control. You CAN stop the cycle.

Candace Plattor, author of Loving an Addict, Loving Yourself, knows from personal experience what it means to be an addict. Within a year of being diagnosed with Crohn's Disease in 1973, she found herself in the throes of prescription drug addiction as a result of the Valium, Demerol and Codeine prescribed to her for many years. She also used marijuana on a daily basis to control her physical and emotional pain, becoming addicted to that as well.

After more than 14 years of abusing substances, she "reached bottom" in 1987. Thus began her journey of recovery and self-discovery.

Candace graduated from the Adler School of Professional Psychology with a Masters degree (M.A.) in Counselling Psychology, in 2001. For over 25 years in her private practice, she's been helping clients and their loved ones understand their addictive behaviours and make healthier life choices.
